

P. cocksi BASTIAN 1865 nec DITLEVSEN 1923 (= P. ditlevseni).

This species has been reported several times by ALLGÉN and even from the Pacific (1927c, 1947d) but no adequate figures are given. In 1927c ALLGÉN mentions that the eye-spots were not observed. This besides the fact that it was only juveniles which the author had examined make me doubt whether the data really refer to the old North Sea-species which from the beginning was poorly described and after BASTIAN never refound.
